STEEL INTERIOR FITTINGS

over those made of wood have for some time been recognised, and there has been a steady demand for Steel Cabinets, Desks, Tables, Lockers, Document Files, etc., in many modern business houses.

¶ This demand is now rapidly spreading to Libraries and kindred institutions, where, amongst other advantages, the marked economy in space, non-inflammability, and the fact that Steel Furniture does not warp or hold insects, are fully appreciated.

¶ Steel Fittings can be grained in imitation of any of the well-known woods, so they do not suffer by comparison with wood furniture on the score of appearance.

¶ The Shelving is supplied single or double-sided, and is made in sections to fit any position.

RONEO STEEL LIBRARY EQUIPMENT

Has been adopted by some of the most prominent Libraries and Institutions at home and abroad—including the Libraries of the University of Edinburgh, the Glasgow and West of Scotland Technical Institute, the University of Aberdeen, the University of St. Andrews, and the Branch Library, Belfast.

Roneo is the only type of Steel Shelving constructed that admits the shelf from the front directly into the upright without vertical opening between the two; there are no projecting teeth in front of upright, no destructive lugs on the side, no movable hangers, so that shelves can never slip or get out of alignment. It is built in the best form with smooth, rounded continuous surfaces, offering least resistance to books.

It is THE IDEAL IN LIBRARY SHELVING, the type that has won the most substantial recognition from the date of its introduction.

SPECIAL ADVANTAGES OF RONEO STEEL LIBRARY EQUIPMENT.

Steel Shelving, supported by steel uprights and structural work, renders the possibility of fire extremely remote. Our construction is the most rigid for one storey stacks. It offers the greatest economy, giving maximum room and strength in minimum space. Our stacking system, with opaque glass floors, can be built to any height required without support from the side walls.

Roneo Steel construction is manufactured from cold rolled steel, enamelled in various art colours, to match any scheme of decoration, by a special process, securing great durability of finish. The shelf has a surface which offers no lodgment for dust; steel fittings are not affected by climatic conditions, will not warp, shrink, split, or fall to pieces. They are easily cleaned, therefore sanitary.

RONEO STEEL LIBRARY FURNITURE INCLUDES:—

PREFACE.

One of the most striking features of the Twentieth Century Librarian's work is its diversity. The Library field is so large and the different branches so intricately connected, that it is no easy task for him to keep in touch with the latest developments in library science, the necessity and importance of which cannot be over-estimated.

To the modern Librarian economy of time and concentration of resources are vital.

The most important medium for the dissemination of technical information concerning Librarianship is undoubtedly the professional press and associated with it, the Transactions of the various Bibliographical Societies, the two enabling the Librarian to acquire that intimate knowledge of current progress so essential to effective and efficient administration. Certain it is that the remarkable advance in Library work which has been made during the past thirty-three years would not have been possible but for these channels of intercommunication for the exchange of new ideas or the recording of fresh experience.

Students of special subjects constantly require to collect all available information concerning the question in which they are interested. Reference to past work is indispensable, for it not only serves to indicate what has already been accomplished and thus prevents much waste of time and energy in reinvestigating already explored paths, but what is more important, the failure of others, frequently suggests improvements, that without such knowledge would never be realized.

The enormous and constantly increasing stream of professional periodical literature renders it impossible for any one individual to keep in touch with all that is likely to be of service to him. Even with the annual indexes and other aids, hours of wearying search are often required to unearth an article, the general subject or the most valuable details of which, are more strongly impressed upon the memory than the title under which it is indexed.

It is indeed difficult for the student of library economy to obtain the full value of the professional literature—Firstly, because at present he has no means of ascertaining expeditiously what work has been done or what articles published which may be of value to him; and secondly because he cannot readily find again what he may have already consulted.

Mr. Frederick Teggart states in a note attached to his article on "Library literature in England and the United States during the Nineteenth Century," Library Journal, Vol. 26, 1891, pp. 257-261.

> "It is to be regretted that with all the facilities of College courses "and Library Schools, the elementary necessity of a Bibliography of "Library Economy has not been supplied—There have been various "attempts—The 'Report on Libraries' (1876) pp. 733-744, and Mr. "E. R. Nicholson's 'List of some leading subjects connected with "Library formation and management,' published in the Transactions "of the First Conference of Librarians (1877) pp. 208-211, 248-249, and "also in the Library Journal, Vol. 1, pp. 399-401 are now very inade-"quate."

Mr. Teggart in concluding his valuable resumé of the Literature of Library Economy, says:—

> "At the conclusion of the first half century of modern democratic "Library movement, we find the profession with a very much en-"larged experience, with a great body of valuable but undigested "literature, and awaiting three important pieces of work: (1) A "Bibliography of Library Science; (2) A Descriptive appraisal of "our Library resources; (3) A Systematic summing up of our pro-"fessional experience and knowledge."

Mr. W. D. Johnston, of the Library of Congress, in his "Suggestions for a Year-Book of Library Literature," Library Journal, Vol. 29, 1904, pp. 126-127, writes as follows:—

> "The first requisite of the progress of Library science, as of all "sciences, is a permanent and systematic record. This has been "recognised in the establishment of numerous Journals devoted to "Library interests and Bibliography, but with all these, there is no "publication devoted to Library literature—and suggests the com- "pilation of a Classified List of books and articles in Magazines "relating to Libraries and Library administration."

This has to some extent been met by the publication in 1905 of "Library Work: a quarterly Bibliography and digest of Library Literature," by the H. W. Wilson Co., Minneapolis, U.S.A., and Mr. Arthur E. Bostwick, Ph.D., Chief Librarian of the St. Louis Public Library, with the select list of references appended to his work, entitled "The American Public Library," published by Appleton & Co., April, 1910, pp. 394; and on this side of the Atlantic by the "Guide to Librarianship," by Mr. James Duff Brown, Chief Librarian of Islington.

The present volume is the result of the first systematic attempt to index the whole range of literature in the English language published in the Library periodical press, indexing as it does, every article relating to Library history and administration, Library Associations, Commissions, Conferences and Schools, Biographical notices of Librarians, Classification, Cataloguing, Office routine, Mechanical accessories and aids, Heating, Lighting, Ventilation and the various contributory branches of knowledge; Binding, Paper, Museum and Lecture work; Practical and Historical Printing; Book selection and the various aids thereto; Bibliography, Methods of Publishing, Copyright and the numerous subjects either directly or indirectly connected with the work of National, Public, Proprietary and Private Libraries and Museums.

Undoubtedly many of the best things that have been written on the various branches of the profession are hidden away in the back numbers of periodicals, and the compiler hopes this volume will render them more easily accessible, and thus prove a valuable help to every Bibliothecal student.

In the compilation of this Bibliography, the original articles appearing in the various professional journals have been consulted and the entries made from the contents of the papers, not merely from their headings, the first and last pages being given in order to show the scope of the paper.

Recognising the value of such a Bibliography to Librarians and students of Librarianship, in November, 1907, the compiler offered to present the rights of the European sales of the volume to the Library Association of the United Kingdom, but owing to insufficient support, the Council were unable to proceed with its publication, and as there appeared to be no prospect of the work being produced under the auspices of the Association in the immediate future, this offer had reluctantly to be withdrawn and the publication undertaken as a private commercial venture.

The size of the work has materially increased since the Council of the Library Association first considered it, as it now comprises over 15,000 entries arranged in a classified logical sequence, under 1,900 subject headings, entries being placed in order of date to present the subject in its historical aspect; the whole being preceded by an elaborate and detailed scheme of classification, specially prepared for the work, and an alphabetical subject index comprising over 2,500 direct references. It thus forms a Classified Bibliography to all articles appearing in the professional publications during the period 1876-1909.

It is a recognised fact that many Library Committees and Librarians, owing to the lack of suitable information, waste much time and money in finding suitable places to obtain their supplies—To overcome this a representative selection of firms specialising in supplies used in Library administration are entered under the various subject heads, immediately following the literature indexed. By this means hints may be gained where various kinds of books may be procured, where books and periodicals may be bound, where Library furniture, stationery, records and supplies of every description may be obtained, the whole forming a permanent Directory of Library Furnishers, whether in fixtures, stationery, books or other accessories.

Notwithstanding the enormous task connected with its compilation, the compiler does not seek to make profit from the sale of the publication and the price has therefore been fixed as low as possible in order to bring the work within the reach of all engaged in Library work.

It should be distinctly understood that the Classification Scheme attached, although fairly comprehensive, does not aspire to cover the whole field of Librarianship and its allied topics, its object being merely to provide a classified key to the subjects represented in the body of the work. Where the key to the classification may not clearly indicate the position of special topics, the full alphabetical subject index should be consulted. It is hoped this will meet the needs of all inquirers.

Everything consistent with clearness has been done to insure condensation and brevity with reference to the various periodicals and journals indexed. For key to the abbreviations, see overleaf.

The compiler desires to acknowledge the encouragement during the progress of the work from the numerous letters of appreciation he has received from American Librarians.

He is indebted to Professor Aksel G. S. Josephson, of Chicago, for the references to articles appearing in the Proceedings of the Bibliographical Society of America, and the Year-Book of the Bibliographical Society of Chicago; and also to Doctor H. M. Barlow, of the Library of the Royal College of Physicians, for those articles published in the official organ of the Association of Medical Librarians. To both of these gentlemen, he desires to tender an expression of his sincere thanks.

ADDENDA AND CORRIGENDA

THE Compiler recognises that there may be many imperfections, for which he craves indulgence. He also feels that there is still much room for improvement, and will be grateful for corrections of any errors noticed, or any suggestions that may be made which will add to the usefulness of the revised and enlarged edition to be published in 1916.

He desires to acknowledge his indebtedness to Miss Grace McKenzie, Chief Assistant, Finsbury Libraries, for reading the proofs, and to Miss Lizzie Hurley, Second Assistant, for compiling the List of Errata.

IF a Committee of Practical Printers were to meet and draw up a report of their ideas of the Ideal Composing Machine, it may be confidently asserted that not only in its main principles, but even in its minor details, this Ideal Machine would resemble the MONOTYPE.

¶ The credit of the original basis idea of this Machine is due to Mr. Tolbert Lanston, of Washington, U.S.A., and some of the keenest of inventive faculties have been continually kept in its improvements.

¶ The first two perfected MONOTYPES used in London were installed in June, 1901, and by the end of December, 1910, approximately 1,500 Caster and 2,100 Key Boards had been installed in Europe, while the development of the use of the MONOTYPE in the United States and Canada was even more rapid.

¶ The principle underlying this invention is "the self-justifying of lines of individual types by varying spaces between words," and the fact that a MONOTYPE line is automatically justified to one half of the thousandth part of an inch is sufficient proof that the Machine is true to its principle.

¶ In spite of the tremendous advantage this Machine possesses over other methods of type-setting (hand or otherwise) the acquiring of sufficient skill for its proper management is a matter of the greatest ease.

¶ Whilst it possesses the largest single key board of any existing Machine, and whilst it gives the operator a selection of any one of 225 different types, the arrangement of the key board, and the introduction of a simple colour scheme, is the cause of the aforesaid easy mastery of its handling; a speed of 6,000 ens being a very moderate and easily attained average after a short period of instruction, and about 10,000 ens the ordinary pace of a skilled operator. Probably in the United States this speed would be considered low.

¶ A single MONOTYPE, equipped with the necessary accessories, would enable the printer to set up seven alphabets as easily as one, three sets of figures with the same facility, in type ranging from Pearl to English, in measures from six to 60 pica ems, solid or leaded, any description face (Modern, Old Style, Roman, Italic, or Display); matter of single or multiple justification. And all this with a scientific precision and a maintenance of quality equal to the highest canons of the art of printing.

¶ In conclusion, the great feature which has tended to the undoubted widespread success of the MONOTYPE Machine is the fact that its introduction is equally profitable to any size of printing works.

The Use of : :
Steel Shelving in Libraries.

THE most important consideration in a Library is the proper preservation and care of the books, and the value of any collection of books, large or small, will very soon decrease if the fittings of the building in which it is sheltered be not suitable for the purpose. In this connection the value of Metal as opposed to Wood is not yet sufficiently well realised in this country. For Shelving especially, Steel is of much more value in many ways than Wood. It is more durable, it is impervious to microbes or vermin, and it does not collect the dust. It does not warp, swell, or shrink. It is, even when, as it should be, of the highest class, more economical both first and last than Wood. Above all, it is incombustible. From the artistic point of view, the substitution of Metal for Wood does not mean any loss, as the latest types of STEEL SHELVING are not only of very good designs, but finished in a wide range of colours. Incidentally, the finish that can be put on Metal ensures hard wear, the absence of friction for the edges of books, and a minimum of difficulty in cleaning. In conclusion, we would mention that, in comparison of Metal and Wood Fixtures, one of the most important details from the point of view of many Library Committees, the question of price is, if all these points be considered, very much in favour of Metal.

DUSTOLIO.

DUSTOLIO is the Highest Achievement in Sanitary Science for Libraries.

This marvellous liquid preparation, applied to the floor once in three months, will keep any room permanently in a perfectly dustless, disinfected and germ-free condition.

DUSTOLIO combines the properties of a most efficient DUST PREVENTER with those of a POWERFUL AIR PURIFIER. It is ECONOMICAL because no scrubbing is required, sweeping being sufficient where Dustolio is applied.

DUSTOLIO prevents the spread of infectious and contagious diseases in Libraries.

DUSTOLIO renders the atmosphere of a room cool, comfortable, and hygiene.

DUSTOLIO has been adopted, and is in continual use, by the following:

H.M. Postal Authorities. H.M. Office of Works.
The Government of Natal. The Government of the Transvaal.

And many large Corporations and Firms.

DUSTOLIO.

"EDINBURGH.—Anyone comparing the Sorting Office as it is with what it used to be in bygone days, will readily recognise that something of the nature of a revolution has taken place in the cleaning arrangements. For this happy state of affairs we have the Controller chiefly to thank. The cleaners have indeed an arduous time nowadays. As regards the new dust layer, we believe that Edinburgh is the first office in the Kingdom to adopt anything other than water as a dust layer, and we wish to express our satisfaction and astonishment at the results obtained from the one now being tried, 'Dustolio.' After a week's trial the floor still presents a newly washed appearance, whilst not a particle of dust arises during sweeping operations."

NOTE.—We must point out that Edinburgh was the First Office in Scotland to adopt 'Dustolio,' but nearly 200 Offices in England use it, including every Office in London.

A HEADMASTER writes:—"The floor has had a liberal application of 'Dustolio,' and not a particle of dust has risen since, not even when we drill in the School. It will last some weeks longer. It does all you claim for it."

A HEADMISTRESS writes: "We find 'Dustolio' very effectual in preventing dust, and we like the appearance it gives the floor.

BOOK-AUCTION RECORDS

Edited by FRANK KARSLAKE

Now Ready, 8 vols., from 1902-1910, containing upwards of 106,000 Records.
Price £1 1s. per vol., bound in red cloth. Also issued in Quarterly Parts, at the same price.
Illustrations of Libraries, etc., in each volume.

Messrs. KARSLAKE & Co. beg leave to draw the attention of all booksellers to their publication entitled Book-Auction Records. It records the prices realised by scarce books at the London auction-rooms, and it gives the names of the purchasers. It is issued in quarterly parts, and each part is arranged in one alphabet, so that any record may be found instantaneously. In addition to this unique advantage a copious Index is printed with the fourth part of each volume. Every volume now contains upwards of 15,000 records, being more than double the number of records usually issued in any similar work. Each part contains also an illustrated article describing the great libraries and the booksellers of Great Britain, and reviews of booksellers' catalogues. As evidence of the value of the publication, it may be stated that practically the whole of the antiquarian booksellers of Great Britain subscribe to it, as well as many in the United States of America, in France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Cape Colony, Australia, Canada, and other parts of the world. The following are extracts from notices by the highest literary journals in England:—The Saturday Review, Dec. 23, 1905, says: "Book-Auction Records is evidently the work of a man who is master of his subject." The Athenæum, March 10, 1906, says: "In all respects the compilation maintains its reputation for accuracy and completeness," and in an earlier notice The Athenæum stated that Book-Auction Records was "invaluable as a book of reference." Notes and Queries, Feb. 17, 1906, declares B.-A.R. to be "a valuable record." The Academy, Feb. 10, 1906, states that B.-A.R. is "an invaluable and masterly work." The Publishers' Circular, Feb. 10, 1906, says: "It is indispensable to all who are interested in second-hand books." T.P.'s Weekly, Nov. 17, 1905, says: "It is the most complete catalogue of current prices." The Publishers' Weekly, New York, Dec. 16, 1905, says: "It is unrivalled in its field in England, and forms an indispensable tool in the working library." The Clique says, Feb. 3, 1906: "A comparison with any other book-sales record will at once prove that nothing on such a complete scale has ever been attempted before," and on Aug. 25, 1906, it says: "It remains a marvel how a volume of 200 pages, well printed on excellent paper, carefully edited, and crammed full of invaluable matter, can be sold for five shillings and threepence." There are 110 Public Libraries in Great Britain and abroad which subscribe to Book-Auction Records.

The series of illustrated articles on the Public Libraries and Booksellers of the United Kingdom will be comprised as follows:—Bath, Birmingham, Bristol, Cambridge, Dublin, Edinburgh, Exeter, Glasgow, Hereford, Hull, Leicester, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle-on-Tyne, Lincoln, Leeds, Oxford, Reading, Sheffield, Southampton, York. The first fifteen have been printed, and the remainder are appearing quarterly. A volume will be sent on inspection, if desired.

The whole of the text pages in this book were set on the Linotype Machine

Prominent Librarians have proved to their own satisfaction that the greatest economy in the production of Library Catalogues is best effected by special personal attention to the printing.

When getting estimates for the printing of a Library Catalogue, Librarians are well advised if they insist upon the Catalogue being Linotype-set. This simple proviso will ensure that the cost is reasonable, because the Linotype is the most economical method of type-setting; that the quality of the printing is excellent, because every letter in every page is quite new; and that the alignment of the characters and the even spacing will leave nothing to be desired.

One of the largest and most varied "Secondhand" Stock of Books in this country, suitable for Public Libraries, Learned Societies, and Libraries generally, is kept by

H. K. BEAZLEY & CO., Booksellers, New and Secondhand,

Who have specialized in Library Supply since 1895, and with this long experience have thus acquired a knowledge of Books suitable for Librarians' requirements, and are therefore in a position to offer the most advantageous terms for the supply of all Books, whether quite recent, or old Publications.

In Secondhand Books we only supply the Last Editions, and all Books in original bindings, but report others if desired.

We have some thousands of "out of print" Books, that are always wanted and cannot be procured elsewhere, and many thousands of ordinary replacements, all in fine condition; also a large stock of Music and French Books.

American and Colonial Buyers can economise by our system of sending out daily and collecting customers' "Wants" from the other members of the trade without extra charge, thus placing at their disposal the entire resources of this great Book Market (a procedure adopted by NO other firm). This not only effects a saving on the first cost, but also in time, labour, postage, etc.

We offer the most intelligent and efficient service you can have, and spare no trouble to supply all Books ordered at a reduction; we therefore trust you will put our statements to the test by sending a list of your requirements, when we are certain you will not be disappointed at going outside your usual routine.

We don't want to cater for you once only, that does not pay us. We do an honest and straightforward business, so want your custom for "all time."

Don't Buy Books at New Prices, till we have had that List, Please!
